

MARY E. CRAIGIE.

Chairman of "Free Labraries," New-York State Federation of Woman's Clubs.

adopted. The report recommends that the term of five years instead of three years, as at present, and

Rev. W. B. Thorp, of Binghamton, N. Y., made a report on Chinese mirsions. The Rev. Dr. William dress on mountain missions. The Rev. Dr. C. H.

Richards, of Philadelphia, nade a report and an address on Southera church work. The Rev. George spoke on "The Need of Church Work in the Back

At the close of the afternoop session the annual business meeting was held. Officers were elected as follows: President, the Rev. Dr. F. A. Noble,

Illinois; vice-presidents, the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mc

New-York; the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, Ohio

secretaries, the Rev. Dr. A. F. Beard, New York; the Rev. Dr. F. P. Woodbury, New-York, and the

The opening meeting of the New-York House hold Economic Association will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Industrial Building, Forty third-st, and Lexington-ave, Addresses will be made by Miss Grace Dodge, Dr. William Tolman and Professor Felix Adler.

A morning and evening class with law lectures to women will be held to-day at the New-York University, Washington Square. There are four Russell will meet the morning class, for all four courses, Miss Peirce and Miss Haggerty will take the evening courses I and III respectively, and Miss Petus will take course II of the evening class, when she has recovered from the effects of her acci-

Marshall Darrach's second Friday evening

Shakespeare recital will take place at Carnegie

Hall to-night, beginning at 8 o'clock. The "Comedy of Errors" will be the play given.

The Home and Country Committee of Chiropean will meet this afternoon at the home of the chair-man, Mrs. Daniel T. Wilson, "War Reminis-cences" will be the subject under discussion, and different members of the committee who devoted the summer to the care of the soldiers will tell their experiences. A cook sook, compiled by mem-bers of this committee, will be distributed.

Delegates representing thirteen chapters of the Daughters of the King, of Long Island, will meet to-day in Christ Church, Bedford-ave., in the East-ern District of Brooklyn. The topic for discussion will be "Women's Work for Women."

A number of graduates of Miss Annie Brown's school in this city are coming down from Vassar College to-night to visit the school, and afterward go to see the play of "Cyrano de Bergerac" at the invitation of Miss Brown. The pupils of Miss Brown's school went in a body last Tuesday to vistt Columbia University and Barnard College.

Frederic Hovey Allen will give the fourth il

Instructed lecture on "Contemporary Painting in Europe and America," under the auspices of the Brooklyn Institute at 4 o'clock p. m. to-day, at Association Hall, Hond and Fulton sts. He will speak on "Contemporary Art in England."

cal science, Joseph P. Warren will lecture this cevening at the Art Building, No. 174 Montague-st., Brooklyn, on "What Nerway and Sweden Have Jone for America." This is the fourth lecture in the course on "The Old World in the New."

At Polytechnic Hall, Livingston-st., near Court-st., Brooklyn, at 8:15 o'clock this evening, Professor Edward K. Hart will deliver a lecture on "Nitrifi cation, Nitrie Acid and the Nitrates. The lecture, which is to be given under the auspices of the department of chemistry of the Brooklyn Institute, will be illustrated by experimental demonstrations and lantern photographs.

Dr. Thaddeus T. Hyatt, jr., will give an illustrated talk on "The Origin and History of Postage Stamps," at 8:15 o'clock this evening, in the large lecture-room, No. 502 Fulton-st., Brocklyn.

At the enthusiastic woman's meeting held Wednesday, at Republican Hall, Third-ave, and One-hundred-and-forty-second-st., under the auspices of the Woman's Republican Association of the State of New-York, it was requested that all women interested in good government, clean streets and rapid transit send their names as soon as possible to Mrs. Davis, No. 218 Willis-ave.

Mrs. Julian Heath, of No. 45 South Maple-ave.

East Orange, has sent out cards for a tea to be given in honor of the Board of Managers of the King's Daughters, Tenement House Chapter, of No. 48 Henry-st., this city, at her home to-day from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary E. Craigie, whose portrait is given this page to-day, is one of the most active and enthusiastic workers in the interest of women throughout the United States. As chairman of courses open to the choice of students and Charles L. Mead, New-York; corresp

Kenzle, Massachusetts; the Rev. Dr. Henry Hop-

Country" of the South.

business meeting was held.

Moore, of Nashville, Tenn., field secretary that three members be elected each year.

GREAT MISSIONARY MEETING. | adopted. The report recommends that the term of

MEMBERS DISCUSS A FIELD THAT COV ERS THE CONTINENT.

WOMAN'S TACTFUL, PATIENT TRAINING RE QUIRED FOR THE RACES FORCED BE-HIND IN THE PROGRESS OF CIVILIZATION.

The fifty-second annual meeting of the American Missionary Association, which has been in session this week in the South Congregational Church, Concord, N. H., closed yesterday with an enthusiastic and interesting woman's meeting. The programme was varied, including a report of woman's work by Miss D. E. Emerson, secretary; talks by the Rev. C. L. Hall, superintendent of Indian missions, Fort Berthold, North Dakota, and Mrs. Anna W. Richardson, principal Lamson School, Marshallville, Ga.; an address by Mrs. Kate Upson Clark, Brooklyn; reports from Miss Maude Summers, teacher from Saluda Seminary, North Carolina, and Miss M. L. Phillips, principal Lincoln School, Marion, Ala.

In Miss Emerson's report it was stated that the contributions from women's missionary societies during the year have been $28,530 65. While this is less than for two previous years, when Jubilee shares were contributed, it is an advance of about

The field of the American Missionary Association, while not divided into "man's work" and "woman's work," is yet an exceptionally favorable field for work to which women are particularly adapted. The lowliness of the people among whom we labor, the manner of reaching and helping them, call for many women workers in the schools. Child life requires woman's tactful, patient training, and races that have been left behind or forced behind in the progress of civilization are in many respects like children. Of the total number of missionary teachers about three-fifths are women at work among the colored people, the mountaineers, the Indians and Chinese; besides these, there are many who, as the wives of pastors, most of them native helpers, do a vast amount of the color of the colored people. native helpers, do a vast amount of missionary work. Additional to the usual schoolroom instru tion, there are lines of woman's work in industries and the "mothering" of the young people in the school homes. Of the 13.445 pupils in the schools the last year, thousands of girls, colored, white and Indian, have been given most careful instruction in domestic training, sewing, cutting, fitting garments and all kinds of household work. T means that particular attention and direction have been given to each girl, beginning with the very

a, b, c of domestic duty.

The "mothering" of large households of young people, both boys and girls, is one of the most important and influential lines of missionary work, and the boys need and appreciate it no less than the girls. Among the noble women who have been nursing our sick soldiers was one who when assigned to the care of the colored soldiers them especial consideration. A poor fellow in his delirium called her mother, and was rebuked by the man in the next cot for speaking thus to a white woman. But the nurse replied quietly, his mother until he gets well," and forthwith all began to call her mother. They will never forget Our hoys and girls in the mission fields, whether white, colored or Indian, value their mis-

Miss Emerson closed her report with the appeal, "Can we not make the coming year a year of large, rous giving to the Lord for this important T's Mary L. Phillips emphasized the importance estionary labor among the colored people of the South.

"The dense ignorance among them," she said, "is appalling, and when we come in contact with it we cannot help teeling that life as seen in such regions has been fully expressed by the negro poet in his lines on 'Life'.

"A crust of bread and a corner to sleep in;
A minute to laugh and an hour to weep in;
A pint of joy to a peck of trouble.
And never a laugh but the means come double;
And this is life."

"You may think the colored people are satisfied with their surroundings, having known nothing better, but they are not. Many have expressed a longing for better things, but because of extreme poverty were not able to better their condition. Many of the harnes of those who have been in our boarding-schools are much better than the descriptographics and it is through our schools that these boarding-schools are much better than the descrip-tion given, and it is through our schools that these tion given, and it is through our schools that these homes are to be changed and made what they should be. Our girls learn habits of neaturess, thrift and economy that are put in practice in their homes are to be changed and many wat the should be. Our girls learn habits of neaturess, thrift and economy that are put in practice in their homes.

"Last year be rer Lincoln Normal School, in Marion, Ala., in a star to bring parents in closer touch with our school cerk we had Perrents Day." The parents and intents of the pupils came on the day appointed and "the recken intents in listening to the recitations art examining the work done by the recitations art examining the work done by the recitations art examining the work done by the excitations art examining the work done by the excitations art examining the work done by the exhibit it to a group of admiring friends. This day seemed to awaken a deeper interest in our school, and made the parents more willing than ever to sacrifice in order to educate their children.

"A literary society, punile tharmy and pleure gallery were organized. The literary society proved to be a source of great help and pleasure to the young people a d was carried on successfully during the vacation months. The library contained nearly three hundred choice books, many of them given by Northern friends. The habit of rending grew very rapidly, and many hours were spent reading good books that before the library was opened were spent on the streets. The picture gallery was an experiment well worth trying. About thirty copies of celebrated pictures were secured and framed. These were given out with the library books, to be kept two weeks and then exchanged. Before the pictures were given out a short sketch of each one was given and the most prominent features pointed out to the pupil, who was instructed to explain the picture in the same way to the members of the family. Can you imagine copies of Hoffmann's. Christ, Bodenhausen's Madonna' and Raphael's Cherubs' hanging upon the walls of those rude cabins? They are there, and the lives of the immates of those homes have been purer and better by seeing these pictures."

AMERICAN MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION. ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND OTHER WORK OF

THE LAST DAY'S SESSIONS. Conpord, N. H., Get. 27.-At this morning's session of the American Missionary Association A. E. Dunning, of Boston, Editor of "The Congregationalist," read the report on change of term of service of the Executive Committee, which was | Free Libraries, New-York State Federation of ings.

in Mendeissohn Hall, at 4:30 o'clock, on the work of women's clubs in aiding public libraries. Being a literary woman and an earnest student, she has felt what the need must be of those whose means or opportunities are limited, and who are yet eagerly in search of knowledge. By untiring effort she largely instrumental in bringing about the establishment and opening of the Brooklyn Library, of which she is now the general Craigle has devoted herself heart and to the suffrage question, believing that through the full recognition of woman's me status will a better condition of morality be broa-status will a better condition of morality be brought about. She has, as president of several clubs, organized many branches of the work in different parts of the country, and put them in running order, at the same time keeping up a vast amount of literary work and delivering lectures everywhere. Two or three books of hers have won attention, one of them having been adopted as a textbook of ancient mythological tales. Mrs. Craigie has been for some years a resident of Brooklyn, having come as a young girl from her school in Detroit, Mich, Her birthpince was Ithaca, N. Y., where her father, the Rev. Thomas Whitbeck, retained the pistorate of his church till an advanced age.

STATISTICS AND MUSIC.

THEY OCCUPY THE ATTENTION OF ACTIVE

NEW-ENGLAND WOMEN. The National Society of New-England Women held its first regular meeting of the season yesterday at the new clubroom, at Delmonico's, Fifth-The business meeting ocave, and Forty-fourth-st. cupied the early part of the afternoon, over which Mrs. William Gerry Slade, the president, presided. The reports of chairmen of committees were read, the most interesting being the account of the war relief work of the society. It was reported that more than $2,000 was expended in aiding three hundred needy families.

Children's War Relief League, organized by Mrs. John Coleman, contributed $150, and sixty-six new garments. The little folks who assisted were all under ten years of age, and the money was raised

Mrs. Edward Addison Greeley, historical reco gave an excellent paper on current topics, dealing with the remarkable war events of the last six months and the present relations between England with the remarkable war events of the list six months and the present relations between England and France.

These New-England women never devote a whole afternoon to the dry details of business, but supplement their public business meetings with a delightful season of song and recitation, and yesterday was no exception. Mrs Jacob Hess, chairman of the entertainment, furnished a programme, which seemed to be highly gratifying to the large audience present. There were soprano and contraits solos by Miss Mary E. Billings and Mrs. Marshall Pease, Miss Rossi Gisch played several selections on the violin, Ross W. David sang two tenor soles, and Mme. Ranke recited selections from Browning. After the adjournment every one seemed imbued with a social spirit, and handshaking and pleasant greetings were the order of the hour. Many subscribed to the unique luncheons which will be held during the season, and a large number of new members were admitted to the society.

The next "literary say" will be held on November 7, the subject to be discussed being Washington Irving.

NEW-JERSEY STATE FEDERATION.

The programme of the meeting to-day of the New-Jersey State Federation, which is being held at Organ prelude, invocation made by the Rev. Hanaford, executive session for the ale-Elizabeth, is as follows:

Organ prejude, invocation made by the Rev. Phebe Hanaford, executive session for the election of officers, rollicall of delegates, election of officers, roport of Denver meeting, Miss Gaines, president; Mrs. Thomas Craven, first vice-president, Mrs. C. W. B. Cushing, delegate. Three-minute reports from clubs having joined the State Federation during the last year; Seven Oaks Club, Bridgeton; Woman's Civic Federation of Elizabeth; School Teachers' Guild, of Newark; Town Improvement Association, of Montclair; the Allegro Club, of Bayonne; City Improvement Society, of New-Brunswick.

These clubs have applied for membership during October: Primary Teachers' Association, of Jersey City; Philomathean Club, of Newark; Qui Vive of Elizabeth. The new business will be lowed by an informal conference of clubs and a the Rev. Dr. F. P. Woodbury, New-York, and the Rev. Dr. C. J. Ryder, New-York; recording and honorary secretary, the Rev. Dr. M. E. Strieby, New-York; treasurer, H. W. Hubabrd, New-York; auditors, Charles N. Schenek, New-York, and Edwin H. Baker, Connecticut: Executive Committee for three years, the Rev. Howard S. Bliss, New-Jersey, Frank M. Brooks, New-York; the Rev. Dr. Elijah Horr, Massachuseits; Clarence Kenyon, New-York, and Willis D. Thompson, New-Hampshire.

The president nominated as Standing Committee for the current year the Rev. C. M. Southgate, Auburndale, Mass.; the Rev. Dr. Arthur Little, Dorchester, Mass.; the Rev. W. B. Thorp, Binghamton, N. Y.; the Rev. Joseph H. Twitchell, Hartford, Conn., and the Rev. Dr. Thomas B. McLeod, Brooklyn

The afternoon session will open with an organ prejude. This will be followed by an "open discussion on Sociology," taken part in by Mrs. Bird, of the New-York Gospel Settlement: Miss Cornella Bradford, Whittier House, Jersey City; Mrs. Rose, New Century Guild, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Florence Howe Hall. A soprano solo, with violin obbligato, will be given by Mrs. Edward E. Weeks and Anton Hoechner. The "Unifying Power of Music" will be discussed by Miss Kate S. Chittendon, and vocal illustrations will be given by Miss Lucy Nelson, with an instrumental illustration by Miss Wilhelmina O. Johnson. The installation of new officers and the introduction of State chairman of correspondence will be followed by the singing of the Federation song and an organ voluntary, after which the meeting will be adjourned. prelude. This will be followed by an orrespondence will be followed by the singing of the Federation song and an organ voluntary, after which the meeting will be adjourned.

INDUSTRIES, STRIKES AND THE BALLOT.

Mrs. Sarah Fairman gave the paper of the day at the West End Woman's Republican Club yesterday afternoon, the subject being "Progress," The American silk industry was first spoken of, and Mrs. Fairman gave some interesting facts, gleaned from reports made by the Treasury Bureau tion.

was Miss Mary Dilworth, cousin of the bride, and Andrew Carnegle, in, was best man. The ushers were Harry Thaw, Frank Carnegle, a brother of the bride production, and Oliver N. Rickettson, of Plittsburg, and Livingston Beeckman, of this city. The bride father is well known in Plttsburg, and is also one of the leading members of the Westches, the Carnegle, and is also a member of the club and an enthusiastic yachtsman and golf and polo player. A large number of well-known Pittsburg and New-York people witnessed the ceremony, and one of the bride, and Andrew Carnegle, ir, was best man. The ushers were Harry Thaw, Frank Carnegle, a brother of the bridegroom, and Oliver N. Rickettson, of Plittsburg, and is also one of the leading members of the Westches, and Italy and I gleaned from reports made by the Treasury Bureau | and tion at Washington had never exceeded one million pounds, while in Methodist Episcopal Church, when Miss Mil 1898 more than ten million pounds were used."

A general impetus has been given to all industries, the speaker said, which merely shows the progress of the country in many directions.

Mrs. J. Griswold Wentz reread the paper she gave last week on "How Citizen Sodiers May Vote." explaining that the votes, although east on Election Day, cannot be returned in reports before some time in December, in the case of the troops stationed at a distance.

in December, in the case of the troops state a distance.

Mrs. Clarence Burns put in a petition for securing the influence of women to prevent the discontinuance of cooking-schools, which are doing so much toward helping girls to acquire a knowledge of sanitation in food. She also spoke of the tailors strike, and read a paper which was given to the employes of a certain firm to sign, in which they were made to discown any connection, present or future, with trades-unions.

Reports of several kinds were read, and it was announced that for the meeting next week Charles Treat would be a speaker.

MOUNT VERNON NEWS. The annual fair of the Bureau of Charities of Lincoln Hall with a supper, and there was an abundance of good things. The following presided at the tables: Mrs. Lelia C. Blake, Mrs. Baughman, Mrs. E. L. Ford, Mrs. H. C. Jones, Mrs. T. A. Goodwin, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. T. Milton Taylor, Mrs. J. S. Knapp, Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. Zerfoss, F. C. Nesbitt, Mrs. Thomas E. Skinner, Mrs. Mrs. F. C. Neshitt, Mrs. Thomas E. Skinner, Mrs. I. W. Ferris and Mrs. A. B. Davis. The waitresses were young women, gowned prettily, and more than anxious that no one should be neglected.

Mrs. C. H. Stecker was chairman of the Supper Committee. After the supper the visitors wandered around to the several booths, where were fancy goods, flowers, groceffee, candy, etc., and money was spent freely. The fair will continue until tomerrow night. The hall is beautifully decorated with evergreens, bunting and drapery.

MARY WASHINGTON CHAPTER.

At the recent meeting of the Mary Washington Colonial Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution the resignation of Mrs. A. G. Mills, the sording secretary, was received with regret. The Executive Council decided upon presenting to her loving-cup of cut glass and silver, appropriately engraved, as a token of the chapter's appreciation of her services. Mrs. Mills resigned because of a prolonged visit to Italy that she was obliged to make.

The regent Miss Vanderpoel, announced that $50 had been sent to Mrs. Belden, regent for the State war fund, and $65 to the National society. The war relief work done by the chapter during the last four mouths was shown to have been extensive and far-reaching. At the close of the meeting the regent presented the chapter with a charter elegantly framed in wood from the house of Mary Washington and from an elm planted at Mount Vernon by General Washington.

WOMEN AID LABOR AGAINST CAPITAL. With the hope that the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor can influence, through the Sweating System Committee, the customers who patronize the shops where the ladies' tailors now on strike are employed, the strikers have determined to await developments. Plans for adding the tailors were discussed yester-day by the Rev. Francis J. Clay Moran, chairman of the committee, with Mrs. Frederick Nathan, president of the Consumers' League, Others interested in the league are Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Charles Russell Lowell and Mrs. Mary Putnam Jacobil. Its work has hitherto been carried on in department stores, where it has been insisted that proper sanitary conditions should be maintained. Mrs. Nathan is desirous of extending the league's interest to the tailors.

At the Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held at Mendelssohn Hall, aext week, the question of the condition of tailors employed in shops will be advanced by Mrs. Nathan. Nathan, president of the Consumers' League

NEW DEPARTURE IN POLITICS. Miss Annie C. Bannon, president of the Women's Republican Club of the XVIIth Assembly District. has recently added to that organization a class in diework. This includes embroidery and practical dressmaking, under competent instructors, and is free to members of the club. Through the courtesy of the Republican leader of the district. John Reisenweber, the club has the use of the rooms at No. 833 Ninth-ave., where it holds its weekly meet-

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Scribner, a daughter of John M. Scribner, to Michel Kirtland took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the of the bride's father, No. 240 West Fifty-sixth-st. There was a pretty decoration of American Beauty roses in the drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Wilton Merie Smith. pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, the uple standing beneath a bower of white roses The bride, whose gown was of white satin and The bride, whose gown was of white satin and mousseline de soie, wore a diamond crescent, a present from the bridegroom, which held the tulle vell in place. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Serbner, as maid of honor. Miss Jeannie Vereance, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, and Master Lawrence Balley and the bride's nephew, Master Alexander Vereance, were the peges. Clement Herbert Kirtland, of Alabama, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Eugene Lacy, of Washington, D. C., and Dr. William B. Trimble, of this city. Among the guests at the ceremony and reception were Mr. and Mrs. William Vereance, Mr. and Mrs. James Vereance, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blanck, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kirtland, Palmer Potter, Dr. Ezra P. Hoyt and Dr. and Mrs. Ewing.

Miss Louise Clara Wagener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August P. Wagener, of No. 77 East One-hun dred-and-seventh-st., was married to John Joseph Fish, son of John Fish, at noon yesterday in St Cecllia's Roman Catholic Church, East One-hundred-and-sixth-st., near Lexington-ave. The Rev. Michael T. Duffy performed the ceremony bride, wearing a gown of castor beaver cloth, with a hat dressed with pheasant wings and plumes, was given away by her father. Miss Katherine Fish, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. Joseph Weed was best man, and Augustus W. Wagener, brother of the bride; Edward Swanberg and Louis Magnolla were the usners. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride's parents. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Fish, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowenthal, Mrs. Thomas J. Mullan, Miss Julia Dempsey, Mrs. John Mullan, Mr. and Mrs. F. Magnolla, Mrs. J. Dahlman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Base, Mr. and Mrs. Fish will be at home on Wednesdays in December at No. 77 East One-hundred-and-seventh-st. bride, wearing a gown of castor beaver cloth, with

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Wright, daughter of the late E. Kellogg Wright, president of the National Park Bank, to George Chapman will take place in Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall-st., on Monday next, October 21.

The engagement is announced of Miss Kathleen Brown-Clayton Danberry, daughter of the late Robert Clayton Danberry, of Bangor, England, to Walter Ames Stebbins, son of James H. Stebbins, of this city.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Alys Kent Tinsley, daughter of Mrs. John B. Tinsley, of Richmond, Va., to Charles Edward Dickin-son, of this city, son of the late George Codwise Dickinson, of Rougemont, Gotham, Albemarle County, Va. The wedding will be celebrated on December 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Barclay will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage to-night by giving a supper at their home, No. 603 Madison-ave., followed by an informal dance. Mr. and Mrs. Barclay's guests will number less than fifty.

mary department of Public School No. 103, at One and-nineteenth-st. and Madison-ave married Wednesday night to Henry Elwood Peck ham, of Newport, R. I. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Eloise Fisher, No. 253 West One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st., and was performed by the Rev. Dr. James Montgomery. The maid of honor was Miss Helen Peckham, sister of the bridegroom, and the best man was Dr. Edward F. Conklin. The bride wore a dress of silk mull over taffeta, the trimming be-ing of duchesse lace. She carried a brayerbook.

Miss Mary Viertel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs oseph Viertel, and Harry N. Baruch were married Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Schwed this city, at the home of the bride's parents, No 1.835 Madison-ave. The maid of honor was Miss Clementine Baer, a relative of the bride. S. Baruch, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Monroe Stern, Hugo Marks and S. Viertel.

Miss Virginia Dilworth Beggs was married to mas Morrison Carnegie, jr., at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Curtis Beggs, West Chester-on-the-Sound, at noon yester-day. The Rev. Frank M. Clendenin, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, officiated. The bride was given away by her father. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Dilworth, cousin of the bride, and

"Prior to 1870," she said, "the importations of One of the largest weddings in New-Rochelle this season was celebrated last et Stephenson, daughter of Stuart A, Stephenson and granddaughter of the late John Stephenson, the car manufacturer, and Robert R. Smith, of Brooklyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Smith, of Franklin, Conn., were married. The pastor, the Rev. A. H. Goodenough, performed the ceremony. The church wa elaborately decorated, and the music was in charge of Professor Walter R. John-stone, organist of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church. The bride was given away by her father Church. The bride was given away by her father Church. The bride was given away by her father and was attended by Miss Louise Tackaberry, maid of honor. Harold G. Berresford, of Brooklyn, was best man. Mr. Smith had as ushers A. B. Hubbell, Stuart A. Stephenson, Jr., and W. A. McCrea, of New-Rochelle, and J. Mervyn Ericksen, of Brooklyn.

NO COPYRIGHT ON A TITLE.

JUSTICE TRUAN'S DECISION ON "THE FORTUNE

Justice Truax, in the Supreme Court, yesterday Mount Vernon opened on Wednesday evening in handed down a decision of great importance to the-atrical managers and playwrights. The decision is the outcome of the dispute between Richard F. Sullivan, Victor Herbert, Miss Alice Nielsen and Frank I. Perley as to the proprietorship of the title of "The Fortune Teller." Some time ago Mr. Sullivan applied to Justice Truax for an injunction restraining Miss Nielsen and Messrs. Herbert and Periev from the continued use of the title, "The Fortune Teller," the comic opera now running at Wallack's Theatre. In his application Mr. Sullivan set forth that he had written a play which he produced in 1855 under the title of "The Fortune Teller." This title, Mr. Sullivan says, he had copyrighted. Mr. Sullivan's production was a drama.

In opposing the application for an injunction A. H. In opposing the application for an injunction x. In Hummel, who appeared for the defendants, con-tended that the courts of this State had no jurisdic-tion in the matter, and that it was a matter for the United States courts to pass upon.

Mr. Hummel also claimed that in having a publi-cation or play copyrighted, the matter and not the title was copyrighted. In his decision Justice Truax

The claim for injunctive relief is based solely upon identity of the title upon which the defendants' the identity of the title upon which the defendants opera is advertised and produced. In other words, this action was brought to prevent the defendants from infringing upon the plaintiff scopyright in and to the title of the play. Such an action cannot be maintained in this court.

Justice Truax holds that as there is no actual in-fringement upon the property rights of the play, and that the sole action is based upon the usage of the title, the injunction sought for cannot be granted.

QUESTIONS BEFORE THE COUNCIL. The programme outlined for to-day by the National Council of Women of the United States, convened at Omaha, includes, in the morning session, reports from the chalrmen of the following standing committees: Committee on Dress, Committee on Equal Pay for Equal Work and Committee on Domestic Science. There will also be two addresses of thirty minutes each on "The Relation of Capi-tal and Labor, as Applied to Domestic Service," and "Prison Reform in Behalf of Women Crimi-

At the afternoon session there will be reports from such of the following organizations affiliated with the National Council as are represented by president or delegate: National Free Baptist Woman's Missionary Society, American Anti-Vivisection Society, National Council of Jewish Women and Women's Foreign Missionary Union of Friends. Two addresses, on "The Women's Work in Religious Organizations" and "Current Tendencies of Religious Phought," will close the session.

Among the prominent Jewish women in attendance at the Council are Mrs. Adams. of Dubuque; Mrs. Lieberman, of Kansas City; Mrs. Haas, of Chicago, and Mrs. Hirsch of Des Moines. The difficulty met with by Jewish women in affiliating with the State Federation of Women's Clubs, due to a clause in the constitutions of the State federations barring out those women who owe allegiance to any religious sect, has been the occasion of much comment. from such of the following organizations affiliated

TWILIGHT CLUB DINNER

The Twilight Club celebrated "ladies' night" last evening with a dinner at the Hotel St. Denis. Fol-

PRESIDENT REVIEWS TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND MARCHING MEN.

INCESSANT APPLAUSE FOR HEROES OF THE LATE WAR-VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR IN THE LINE-PEACE JUBILEE BANQUET

AT THE CLOVER CLUB. Philadelphia, Oct. 27.-For three hours to-day President McKinley, Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, saw victorious troops pass in review before him. It was military and naval day of the Peace Jubilee. Twenty-five thousand men marched in the brilliant pageant.

Within a semi-circular inclosure of the big reviewing-stand, in the magnificent Court of Honor, the President stood erect and uncovered throughout the entire parade. As the troops passed his face was set but not stern, and in his eyes was a gleam of satisfaction. The central theme and motive of the display was joy and pride in the men and their work, and the nation of which they are the representatives. Here and there, when some particular body of troops marched by, the President smilingly waved his hat and motioned to the crowds across the way to cheer the men. Mrs. McKinley viewed the procession from a small stand on top of the onservatory of the Lippincott mansion, immediately behind the larger stand where her husband stood.

There was not an untoward feature of the day; the weather was agreeable, the crowds were handled with skill, and whatever accidents occurred were of a trivial character.

Over the President's head hung a canopy bearing on its face the arms of the United States, and surmounted by the new President's flag, for the first time unfurled. The flag was only recently adopted by the War Department. To the left of the stand was the coat of arms of Philadelphia.

Throughout the parade the President was a tended by a small party, including Vice-President Hobart, Secretary Alger, Secretary Wilson, Assistant Postmaster-General Heath, Private Secretary Porter, Mayor Warwick, and members of the Jublice Committee.

PRESIDENT SEES THE DECORATIONS. The President and his party were driven in open carriages after breakfast along the route of the parade, about seven miles in length. While going up Broad-st, the party passed General Miles and his staff, who were riding to the place of formation. The moment the Gendent arose in the carriage and raised his hat, holding it aloft until the party had passed. Returning to the Bellevue, the President's party was escorted by a squadron of the 1st City Troop of cavalry to the reviewing-stand, where they had been preceded by Generals Shafter. Lawton and Chaffee, with their aides and a party of women. Ten minutes later, at 11:25 o'clock, the platoon of the Emergency Corps, which held the head of the line, reached th stand, and from then until 2:30 o'clock the soldiers and sailors tramped on in splendid marching order, every sword raised in salute, every gun presented.

Many illustrious heroes were in line, but there was little partiality displayed in the kind or quantity of enthusiasm accorded them. Major-General Miles, Chief Marshal, rode at the front, immediately behind the Emergency Corps, until reached his special reviewing-stand at Broad and York sts., the northern end of the route. Here he dismounted, and from the stand watched his men file past.

General "Joe" Wheeler rode behind the Governors, his gray head bared for some minutes before and after the President's stand was reached, and bowing repeatedly to the President's waving hat and the applause of the others of the party and the people generally.

General Sumner, Captain Evans, Commodore Philip, Captain Sigsbee, Colonel Huntington, with his marines of Guantanamo fame, each received tumultuous greeting, but, after all, perhaps the loudest applause was given to Lieutenant Hobson and his Merrimac crew. They rode on a tally-ho, and as they reached the reviewing-stand all rose, faced the President and bowed.

"PRESIDENT'S OWN" APPLAUDED

So far as any body of men was concerned the 21st Regular Infantry, the "President's Own," received the greatest tribute. They marched three hundred strong, under Colonel McKibbin, and the memory of their valorous deed at the storming of San Juan Hill stirred the people to a clamor of applause. With them marched the "fighting musicians" of the regiment, the men who in the thick of the combat flung their instruments from them and snatched guns from their fallen brothers. There are only twenty left of the original thirty-eight bandsmen. The others fell in the fight. The 21st carried the colors presented to them by Mrs. McKinley, who called them the "President's Own," and also those given by a woman of New-York City. The 10th Cavalry, colored, were dismounted, and to them the President repeatedly flourished and to them the President repeatedly flourished his hat. Huntington's Marines, who made the first hostile landing on Cuban soil, were imme-diately preceded by the Marine Band. Of course, the highest degree of local enthusiasm was bestowed upon Colonel Huling and his 16th Pennsylvania Regiment. His flank mov in the fight at Coamo, Porto Rico, had not been forgotten. The President's party joined in the applause. The sailors were no less well received than the soldiers. There were lines of blue-jackets from the Texas, the Gloucester, the Markhaband, the Toraks, and the Markhaband. Marblehead, the Topeka and the Mayflower, with a few scattering men from the Yosemite, the Yankee and other auxiliary cruisers.

The rear of the line was held by the Grand Army of the Republic and their allied military organizations. As these survivors of the Civil War filed past with enfeebled step they saluted the President in their own way. Some waved their hats; others timorously raised their hands in the conventional way, while several com-panies halted, turned, and, fronting the Execu-tive, presented their tattered battleflags. One of the posts carried a battery of two guns, and saluted with a shot from each as the stand was passed. The President responded with a sweep passed. The President responded with a sweep of his hat and continuous bows.

Between two of the Grand Army of the Republic posts rode in a carriage Harry L. MacNeal, who had charge of a gun on the Brooklyn, and who crawled out over the side of the ship while under fire, to extricate a fragment of shell which had become fixed in the muzzle.

As the last line of soldiers and the body of

As the last line of soldlers and the body of police behind them passed the stand the crowd broke through the ropes and made a rush toward the President's inclosure. He merely bowed his acknowledgments of the cheering and then withdrew to the house of Mrs. J. Dundas Lippincott, immediately back of the stand. Here the party took luncheon, and shortly afterward the President retired to his hotel to strend in cest the time remaining until the spend in rest the time remaining until the Clover Club dinner and the Academy of Music reception at night.

DINNER AT THE CLOVER CLUB. President McKinley was the guest of honor to-night at the Peace Jubilee banquet of the Clover Club, where he met nearly all of the distinguished visitors to the city and the leading citizens of Philadelphia. Among the two hundred who sat around the table were Vice-President Hobart. Secretaries Alger and Wilson, Postmaster-General Smith, General Miles, General Shafter, General Wheeler, General Sumner, General McKibbin, Commodore Philip, Judge Michael Arnold, Senator Penrose, William H. Crane, Charles H. Cramp, Commodore Silas Casey, Commander W. S. Cowles, Governor L. A. Cook of Connecticut, Thomas Dolan, Captain Robley D. Evans, Pensjon Commissioner H. Clay Evans, James Elverson, William L. Elkins, Major-General William M. Graham, General A. W. Greely, Governor Hastings, Commander J. Major-General William M. Graham, General A. W. Greely, Governor Hastings, Commander J. N. Hemphill, Colonel R. W. Huntington, Brigadier-General Willis J. Hulings, Lieutenant Richmond Pearson Hobson, Captain T. F. Well, Major-General William Ludlow, Major-General Henry W. Lawton, ex-Lieutenant-Governor Walter Lyon, Governor Lloyd Lowndes of Maryland, Chief Engineer Jackson McElmell, J. H. Waddy, Commander W. W. Mead, Lieutenant-Commander Adolph Marix, Lieutenant Albert P. Niblack, Archbishop Ryan, Captain Charles D. Sigshee, Governor Ebe W. Tunnell of Delaware, Governor J. H. Tyler of Virginia, Lieutenant-Commander Richard Wainright, Peter A. B.

PARADE IN PHILADELPHIA. Widener, Mayor Warwick, Commodore J. C. Watson, Captain Thomas H. Wilson, Captain Barclay H. Warburton and Frank Thompson.

BRIEF SPEECH BY THE PRESIDENT. President McKinley had an enthusiastic reception when he entered the beautifully decorated dining-room with Postmaster-General Smith and Secretaries Alger and Wilson. In response to the patriotic introduction of Colonel McClure, president of the club, the President said:

I cannot forego making acknowledgment to granted me to meet with you here to-night. You do not seem half so bad at this stage as you have been pictured. No one can unfold the future of the Clover Club. (Laughter.) It has been gratifying to me to participate with the people of the city of Philadelphia in this great patriotic celebration. It was a pageant the like of which I do not believe has been seen since the close of the Civil War, when the Army of Grant and Sherman and the Navy of Dupont, Dahlgren and Porter gave the great review in the capital city of the Nation. And I know of no more fitting place to have a patriotic celebration than in this great city, which witnessed the first consecration of liberty and of the Republic. As I stood tion of liberty and of the Republic. As I stood on the great reviewing-stand witnessing the soldiers and sailors passing by my heart was filled only with gratitude to the God of battles, who has so favored us, and gratitude to the brave soldiers and sailors who won such signal victories on land and on sea, and had given a new meaning to American valor.

It has been especially gratifying to me to participate not only with the people of Philadelphia, but with the people of the great West, where I have recently visited, in doing honor to the American Army and the American Navy.

No nobler soldiers or sailors ever assembled

No nobler soldiers or sailors ever assembled under any flag. You had with you to-day the leaders of Santiago, Porto Rico and Guantanamo. We unfortunately had none of the heroes of Maniia with us. But I am sure that our hearts go out to them to-night, and to the brave Dewey and Otts and Merritt, and all the other sailant me, that are now sustaining the brave Dewey and Otis and Merritt, and all the other galiant men that are now sustaining the flag in the harbor and city of Manila.

A voice—'How about Hobson?'
The American people are always ready for any emergency, and if the Merrimac is to be sunk there is an American officer to do it. He succeeded in doing what our foe had been unable to do, sink an American ship. (Applause).
I ask you gentlemen of the Clover Club to units with me in toasting the Army and Nayy unite with me in toasting the Army and Navy of the United States, without whose valor and sacrifice we could not celebrate the victory we have been celebrating to-day. Not only the men at the front, not only the men on the battle-ships and in the battle-line, but the men at home with ambition to go to fight the battles of American civilization should be the recipi-ents of the gratitude of the American people. When he finished his speech the President left the hall to go to the reception at the Academy of Music. As he passed from the room, General Miles entered. The head of the Army received a flattering reception as he pressed through the crowd to his seat next to General Shafter. The latter arose as General Miles approached, reaching out his hand, cordially greeting his chief. The public exhibition of good feeling between the two generals was greeted with almost deafening applause.

General Alger responded briefly on behalf of the Army, and Captain Evans was called upon as a representative of the Navy. He thrilled his hearers with a simply told story of the battle of Santiago, filled with personal reminiscences. which he paid an eloquent tribute to the American soldier and satior. DIPLOMAS FOR TRAINED NURSES.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE POST

GRADUATE HOSPITAL. commencement exercises of the Training School for Nurses of the Post-Graduate Hospital, Second-ave, and Twentleth-st., were held in the ecture-room of the hospital last night, and were followed by a reception, both of which were at tended by the friends and relatives of the grad-

The introductory remarks were made by Dr. D. B. St. John Roosa, who congratulated the young graduates upon their entry into an honorable ing. Dr. Miller, assistant treasurer of the hospital, presented the diplomas. An address followed by the Rev. J. L. Parks, rector of Calvary Episcopal hurch.

The graduates, eighteen in number, were Mrs.
Elizabeth Alsdorf, Miss Emily Bertha Beach, Mrs.
Imma H. Curris, Miss Elmore Gerard, Miss Zula tenneberger, Miss Jane M. Hunter, Miss Ivy Inraham, Miss Alice Kelly, Miss Caroline F. Lewis, Iss Frances Motter, Miss Anna B. McRay, Miss larie U. McRay, Mrs. Adelaide Rush, Miss Elizath V. Swayze, Miss Belle Thomas, Miss Caroline trances Vali, Miss Elizabeth Sampson and Miss son A. Sutcliffe.

Frances Vall, Miss Elizabeth Sampson and Miss Lena A. Sutcliffe. The patronesses were Miss Ella E. Russell, Mrs. Henry E. Howland, Mrs. Margaret Squires, Mrs. Brander Matthews, Mrs. Albert Tuckerman and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson.

THE UNIVERSALISTS' CONFERENCE.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED AT THE THIRD DAY'S SES SION IN THE CHURCH OF THE

DIVINE PATERNITY. The third day of the Middle Conference of Universalists began at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the Church of the Divine Paternity, Seventy-sixthst. and Central Park West. Devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. A. Vilkovsky, opened the The exercises were followed by an address on "The Gospel and the Age," delivered by

The Rev. E. G. Mason spoke on "Youth in Churchwork," and the Rev. Augusta J. Chapin on "What Christianity Is Doing for Women." This address closed the morning session.

the Rev. Dr. A. B. Curtis.

There was an unusually large assemblage at the afternoon session. The first address was made by the Rev. F. W. Betts on "The Universalist Church at Work Through Social Reforms." He dwelt on the necessity of social reform work by the church The Rev. Dr. G. L. Perin, paster of the "Every Day Church," of Boston, spoke on "The Institu-tional Church," Dr. Perin believes that churches should be kept open all day long, that they should not move up in fashionable districts, but be kept in not move up in fashionable districts, but be kept in the congested parts of the city.

Professor John B. Clark, of Columbia University, discussed "The Church and Economic Problems." He pointed out the relation of the church to economics and said. "There are great reforms to be effected, and the church must do its utmost to carry them forward. Corporations must at least be made to act as if they had souls."

At the evening session the principal paper was read by St. Clair McKelway, who spoke cloquently on "Good Citizenship."

The Hotel Empire has been made the headquarters of the delegates to the conference. Among the prominent delegates to the conference. Among the prominent delegates now at the Empire are the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Corby, of Hudson; the Rev. F. W. Betts and the Rev. W. H. Betts, of Syracuse; the Rev. Anthony Belkoosky, of Baltimore; the Rev. A. D. Curtis, of Binghamton, N. Y.; the Rev. F. A. Dillingham, of Bridgeport, Conn.; the Rev. E. M. Grant, of Stamford, Conn.; the Rev. E. M. Grant, of Southern Conn.; the Rev. E. M. Grant, of Boston Mass.; the Rev. E. G. Mason, of Hightstowa, N. J., and Professor B. F. Eaton, of Tufts College, Massachusetts.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

Oneonta, N. Y., Oct. 27 .- At this morning's sesdon of the State Baptist Missionary Convention the following officers were elected: President, the Rev. J. B. Calvert, New-York; vice-presidents, F W. Taylor, Buffalo, and W. S. Peck, Syracuse; recording secretary, the Rev. J. A. Hungato, Homer; corresponding secretary, the Rev. H. W. Barnes, Port Dickinson; treasurer, Theodore E. Schulte, New-York; directors—Wallace Buttrick, Albany; Frank Dickerson, New-York; R. B. Hull, Brooklyn: John Humpstone, Brooklyn; C. D. Middle-brook, Binghamton; A. S. Coats, Buffalo; J. W. Phillips, Einghamton; A. M. Prentice, burg: D. A. Woodbury, Rochester, and Byron E. Huntley, Batavia. The annual report was de-livered by the Rev. J. F. Elder, of Albany. The report shows a membership of 930 churches State, having about one hundred and fifty thousand members. One hundred of the churches are without pastors.

At the afternoon session exhaustive reports from At the afternoon session exhaustive reports from committees on Sunday-schools and young people's work were read, the former by the Pev. D. D. Dean, of Lowville, and the latter by G. G. Johnston, of Ballston. Addresses were mode during the afternoon by the Rev. G. H. Ferris, of Tarrytown, on "Education" and by the Rev. George P. Perry, of Troy, on "The Waste Places."

Addresses were made this evening by Mornay Williams, of New-York, and Dr. E. E. Chivers, of Chicago.

LECTURES AT THE FOOD SHOW.

The cooking lectures and teas in the concert hall at the Food Show, Madison Square Garden, are features of the exhibition which the women ap-preciate. Mrs. Lemcke will talk this afternoon on preciate. Mrs. Lemcke will talk this afternoof on "Mistresses and Servants." There will also be additional stereoption views of the tea-producing districts and tea culture. To-morrow the topic discussed by Mrs. Lemcke will be "The Model Wife," and a French dinner will be prepared and served to the audience. By special request to-morrow will be Children's Day, and school-children, accompanied by adults, will be admitted at a reduced price on application to the manager's office.